Numbers of Recipients and Amounts of Payments Under Medicaid and Other Medical Programs Financed From Public Assistance Funds
Calendar Year 1969

In calendar year 1969 an estimated 14,875,000 recipients had medical vendor payments totaling $4,383,200,000 made in their behalf.

The estimated number of recipients in 1969 increased 14 percent over 1968 and payments increased 11 percent.

Medical vendor payments were made for 73 persons per 1,000 civilian population as of July 1, 1969. The comparable number for 1968 was 65 (revised) per 1,000. 1/

The following tabulation shows the estimated national total number of recipients, distributed by basis of eligibility of the recipient, for 1968 and 1969 and the percentage change between the two years. These national totals exceed the totals given in State detail tables covering all recipients (14,612,000 for 1969) because the national total includes estimates for States that are not in the detail tables (see first two paragraphs, page 6).

	1968	1969	Percent change
Total recipients .....	13,000,000	14,875,000	14
Age 65 or over .....	2,860,000	3,041,000	6
Blindness .....	78,000	99,000	27
Permanent and total disability ...	882,000	1,055,000	20
Dependent children under 21 .....	5,910,000	6,562,000	11
Adults in families with dependent children .....	2,410,000	3,156,000	31
Other .....	860,000	962,000	12

The percentage increases from 1968 to 1969 in the number of recipients was greatest for adults in families with dependent children. The ratio of child recipients to such adults declined from 2.5 in 1968 to 2.1 in 1969.

Children under age 21 constituted the largest group of recipients--44 percent of the total in 1969. In the same year adults in families with dependent children represented 21 percent and recipients age 65 or over 20 percent of the total.

Total payments did not follow the proportion pattern of recipients. Payments for children under 21 represented 16 percent of total payments (or less than half the recipient percent, above), for adults in families with dependent children, 17 percent (roughly the same as the recipient percent), and for aged recipients, 41 percent (or twice the recipient percent).

1/ Based on population estimates made by the Bureau of the Census.

Total medical vendor payments represented an expenditure of $22 per person in the civilian population, compared to $20 in 1968. <sup>1/</sup>

The following tabulation provides estimated national data on medical vendor payments similar to the above information on recipients. Estimates are also included here for nonreporting States (see first two paragraphs, page 6).

	1968	1969	Percent change
Total payments.....	$3,950,000,000	$4,383,200,000	11
Age 65 or over.....	1,750,000,000	1,801,600,000	3
Blindness.....	32,000,000	36,500,000	14
Permanent and total disability..	667,000,000	826,200,000	24
Dependent children under 21.....	580,000,000	718,400,000	24
Adults in families with dependent children.....	621,000,000	730,100,000	18
Other.....	300,000,000	270,400,000	-10

The average payment for recipients under age 21 was $109; for adults in families with dependent children, $231; for blind recipients, $369; for recipients age 65 or over, $592; and for permanently and totally disabled recipients it was $783. (Included as recipients age 65 or over are only those recipients considered as eligible on the basis of age. Some recipients age 65 or over were classified as blind or permanently and totally disabled.)

The number of medical recipients who also received maintenance money payments rose 31 percent from 1968 to 1969, and their payments rose 24 percent.

Medical recipients who also received maintenance money payments represented 68 percent of all recipients but their medical payments represented only 58 percent of the total. The average payment per recipient who also received a money payment was $252. The average per recipient who did not receive a money payment was $387. These differences result, at least partially, from the fact that the group of recipients who did not receive money payments included some persons who sought help only in paying large medical bills, and a disproportionately large number of persons receiving nursing home care. Recipients in nursing homes may not need money payments for maintenance so long as they remain in the home, but the vendor payments in their behalf, which include the costs of board and room as well as nursing care, are relatively large. For money payment recipients both large and small medical bills are paid, and the presence of many small bills tends to reduce the average medical payment for this group of recipients.

In both 1968 and 1969, numbers of recipients with physicians' services and with prescribed drugs exceeded by far the numbers with other types of services.

Only nursing home services showed a decline from 1968 to 1969 in the number of recipients. The transfer of some recipients from nursing homes to intermediate care facilities presumably was an influence in this decline.

The following tabulation shows the estimated total number of recipients distributed by type of medical service. These totals also include estimates for both years for States that are not in the detail tables (see first two paragraphs, page 6).

In 1969 total payments for four types of services represented 88 percent of all payments. They were: inpatient hospital care, 38 percent; nursing home care, 30 percent; physicians' services, 12 percent; and prescribed drugs, 8 percent.

For these four types of services, percentage increases in payments from 1968 to 1969 were: inpatient hospital care, 13 percent; nursing home care, 5 percent; physicians' services, 22 percent; and prescribed drugs, 25 percent.

The following tabulation shows for 1968 and 1969 the estimated total amounts of medical vendor payments distributed by type of service. (See first two paragraphs, page 6, for reasons for disagreement between these totals and totals of State detail.)

Recipients in California and New York in 1969 represented 44 percent of the total for the reporting States, and payments in the two States were 47 percent of the comparable total for payments.

The combined number of recipients in California and New York exceeded the total for the 47 smallest reporting States.

Of the 50 States that reported numbers of recipients for both 1968 and 1969, nine (Alabama, Idaho, Indiana, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Oklahoma, Puerto Rico, and West Virginia) showed decreases. (The four States not reporting for one or both years were Colorado, Mississippi, Pennsylvania, and Tennessee.)

Among the other 41 States, increases in recipients ranged from 1 percent in Maryland to 275 percent in the District of Columbia. Exclusive of Guam (which had an increase of 194 percent but only 2,000 recipients in 1969), the second largest relative increase was in Virginia. The District of Columbia and Virginia started their medicaid programs in July 1968 and July 1969, respectively.

In the tables showing data by State, nine States are shown as not having title XIX programs. All but Alaska and Arizona have subsequently initiated programs. The dates on which programs began are given below.

Interpretations and definitions

Preceding statements that relate to national totals are based on estimates that include data for nonreporting States. Colorado and Pennsylvania did not report for 1968. Mississippi and Tennessee did not report for 1969, Virginia's report covered only six months, and Colorado's report was received too late for inclusion in the detailed tables. Estimates for nonreporting States, estimated adjustments for Virginia, and reported data for Colorado were included in estimated national totals.

Since the reported data represent such a high proportion of the overall national estimate, any differences between the foregoing analytical statements and similar ones that might be derived from totals on State detail tables would be relatively small. Some differences might also result from rounding the data.

In tables showing numbers of recipients, a total represents the unduplicated number of persons for whom medical vendor payments for one or more types of care were made during the period. In most instances the sum of the numbers receiving the different types of care exceeds the unduplicated total because some recipients received more than one type of care.

Components may not add to totals because of independent rounding.

Table 35 shows, for States preparing their reports on a sampling basis, the size of sample used and the sampling percentage represented.

Abbreviated definitions of the types of services for which data are reported are:

Inpatient hospital services - All items of care furnished to an inpatient and covered by the hospital's bill.

General hospital - A hospital maintained primarily for inpatient care of acute illness or injury and for obstetrics.

Mental hospital - A hospital primarily engaged in providing psychiatric services for the diagnosis and treatment of mentally ill persons.

Tuberculosis hospital - A hospital primarily engaged in providing medical services for the diagnosis and treatment of tuberculosis.

Nursing home services - All services furnished to inpatients of, and billed for by, a licensed or formally approved nursing home.

Physicians' services - Services provided by an individual licensed under State law to practice medicine or osteopathy. Services covered by hospital bills are not included.

Dental services - Services, including ancillary services, provided by a dentist in the practice of his profession.

Other practitioners' services - Services of licensed practitioners other than physicians and dentists.

Outpatient hospital services - Services furnished to outpatients by a hospital.

Clinic services - Services furnished to outpatients by a facility which is not part of a hospital, but which is organized and operated to provide services to outpatients.

Laboratory and radiological services - Professional and technical laboratory and radiological services provided in an office or similar facility (other than a hospital outpatient department or clinic) or by a qualified laboratory.

Home health services - Services furnished a patient in his home, including: intermittent or part-time nursing service provided by a home health agency, or by a registered professional nurse or licensed practical nurse; medical supplies, equipment, and appliances for use in the home; and services of a home health aid.

Prescribed drugs - Drugs dispensed by a licensed pharmacist on the prescription of a practitioner licensed by law to administer such drugs, and drugs dispensed by a licensed practitioner to his own patients. This item does not include a practitioner's drug charges that are not separable from his other charges, or drugs covered by a hospital's bill.

Other care - Any medical or remedial care not covered by the above.

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions and activities. It emphasizes the need for transparency and accountability in financial reporting.

2. The second part of the document outlines the various methods and techniques used to collect and analyze data. It includes a detailed description of the experimental procedures and the statistical analysis performed.

3. The third part of the document presents the results of the study. It includes a series of tables and graphs that illustrate the findings of the research. The data shows a clear trend of increasing activity over time.

4. The fourth part of the document discusses the implications of the findings. It suggests that the results have significant implications for the field of study and may lead to further research in this area.

5. The fifth part of the document provides a conclusion and summarizes the key points of the study. It reiterates the importance of accurate record-keeping and the need for ongoing research in this field.

1/ Includes data for 45 reporting States and Massachusetts Division of the Blind. No reports received from Colorado, Tennessee, and Mississippi; data on discharges and days of care not reported by Guam, Massachusetts Department of Public Welfare, Oregon, and Virginia; reliable data not reported by Iowa and Rhode Island. For New York, data do not include State hospitals for the mentally retarded and State hospitals for the mentally ill. For North Carolina, data do not include recipients of Aid to the Blind. Total also includes 380 recipients in West Virginia and 5,500 recipients in Wisconsin for whom specified number of days of care were unknown. Medians based on 37 States reporting discharges by specified days of care. 2/ Includes some recipients 65 years of age and over. 3/ Data not reported. 4/ Specified days of care not reported. Average (mean) number of days of care per discharge for Kansas 9; for Puerto Rico 6; for Indiana 11; and for New Jersey 7. 5/ Reliable data not reported.

Table 31.--Recipients of skilled nursing home care, by days of care, by State, calendar year 1969

1/ Totals do not include data for Colorado, Tennessee, and Mississippi; reports not received. Indiana, Kansas, Maine, Nebraska, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and South Carolina did not report specified days of care, but reported total days. Days of care not reported by Massachusetts, Oregon, Virginia, Arizona, and Indiana. Medians based on data only for States reporting distribution by specified days of care. 2/ Average (mean) days of care per recipient for States not reporting by specified days of care: Indiana 219, Kansas 73, Maine 33, Nebraska 88, New Jersey 281, Pennsylvania 166, and South Carolina 246. 3/ Data not reported. 4/ Does not include data for State schools for the mentally retarded and State hospitals for the mentally ill. 5/ Includes days of care covered by retroactive payments. 6/ Does not include 480 recipients of skilled nursing home care in private hospitals for whom coinsurance payments under title XVIII were made. 7/ May include some recipients of services in intermediate care facilities.

1/ Totals do not include data for Colorado, Tennessee, and Mississippi; data not reported. For New York, data do not include State schools for the mentally retarded and State hospitals for the mentally ill. For North Carolina, recipients of Aid to the Blind; and for Missouri, recipients aged 65 and over. Number of recipients may not agree with numbers shown on Table 4 because some physicians bill on the basis of flat fee and do not detail visits.

2/ Data not reported. 3/ Specified numbers of visits not reported; average (mean) number of visits per recipient for States reporting total visits but not by specified numbers were: Kansas 8, Maine 6, Pennsylvania 5.

Puerto Rico 2, South Carolina 7, Indiana 13, and New Jersey 4. 4/ Data estimated.
